

THE UNIVERSITY LANGUAGE PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT OFFICE(ULPDO)

Cordially invites you to register for a

MATERIALS DEVELOPMENT WORKSHOP

27-28 NOVEMBER 2025

UKZN, MEDICAL SCHOOL K-RITH, K1-K2

08:00 - 15:00

CLICK TO REGISTER

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

This workshop teaches a systematic approach to creating effective training materials. You will learn to define clear objectives first, then develop practical content and assessments that directly measure them. The process uses rapid prototyping to quickly draft and test materials with real users, followed by a continuous improvement cycle based on learner feedback and performance data to systematically refine resources for maximum impact.

FACILITATORS

FACILITATOR
PROF. NOMALANGA MKHIZE

Nomalanga Mkhize is a history professor at the Nelson Mandela University in Gqeberha. She has a PhD in Sociology from the University of Cape Town, and MA in History from Rhodes. She is currently the Director of the School of Governmental and Social Sciences, and was previously Head of the Department of History and Political Studies. Her research areas are currently in African language vernacular literatures and their place in South African historiography.

INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGNER
DR ZWELI MFISHI

Zwelisha Mfishi is an Instructional Designer at the University of KwaZulu-Natal Teaching and Learning Office (UTLO). His role involves the implementation and adoption of digital pedagogical and learning strategies at UTLO. He currently holds a Doctor of Social Sciences (Social Work); Bachelor of Social Work (Cum Laude). He served in different roles within Higher Education and Training including but not limited to Monitoring and Evaluation, Lecturer and Head of Tutors, Supervisor (Research and Practice), Training Officer, and Research Assistant.

