WEMINAR OVERVIEW :

Join us for an intensive Academic/Scientific Writing Workshop designed specifically for Masters and PhD students.

Facilitated by Senior Academics, this workshop offers a comprehensive exploration of the principles and practices essential for crafting compelling academic/scientific writing. From structuring your arguments effectively to mastering citation conventions, this workshop covers all aspects of scholarly writing.

Whether you're in the early stages of your research or nearing completion, this workshop is tailored to meet your needs.

MEET THE FACILITATOR :

DR NISHA SINGH

Dr Nisha Singh is a research leader with extensive experience in doctoral education, academic writing, research governance and scholarly publishing. She holds a PhD in Science and has published widely across the life sciences and higher education research domains, with over 30 peer-reviewed publications and a strong citation record. Dr Singh has held senior research management roles, including Head of Research and Manager of Doctoral Programmes, and currently serves as an Honorary Research Fellow at the University of KwaZulu-Natal.

Her contributions to research excellence have been recognised through several awards, including the Vice-Chancellor's Research Excellence Award and an NRF research rating. She was nominated in 2010 by the Department of Science and Technology as a Distinguished Woman Scientist in the Life Sciences. She is deeply committed to advancing the research careers of early and emerging researchers through mentorship and the development of rigorous, ethical and publishable scholarly work.
